Fellow members,

As the weather continues to be unseasonably warm for late fall, don't put your cars away just yet. We have one more event planned for Sunday, November 17. CLC member John W. Warner IV, of Front Royal, VA, has invited Region members to his home to see his classic car collection. While onsite, the November meeting will take place followed by lunch and beverages provided by the Club and John, respectively, and a tour of the facilities. Members are asked to RSVP by Monday, November 11. See the flyer in this issue for more information.

At the October meeting, we closed the nominations for the election of 2025-25 officers. Since all the nominees will be running unopposed (see list in the October meeting minutes), the election by acclamation will be held at the November meeting.

After serving as Director for the past six years, I have decided not to seek re-election. JoJo and I would like to thank the officers and members for their dedication to the Club and the support they provided for me. My plan is to remain active, so I will see many of you at events and meetings.

Happy motoring!

Dan Ruby

CADILLAC FALL FESTIVAL BY BILL HARRISON

The 2024 Cadillac Fall Festival was held on Friday-Saturday, September 27-28 at the Cadillac LaSalle Club Museum & Research Center (CLCMRC), which is part of the Gilmore Museum complex in Hickory Corners, MI. The judging for all-GM makes entered was held on Saturday afternoon. There were some beautiful trophies handed out to the winners in various categories. Approximately 100 cars were in attendance. If the weather forecast had been more promising, there likely would've been many more.

Although I've been a board member of the CLCMRC for over a year now, this was my first personal visit. I have to say that I was really impressed: not just with the Club's fabulous Museum, but with all the other museums present on the property as well. There are approximately seven different marques represented there. For any car person, this would be a trip well worth the time.

1953 ELDORADO REGISTRY BY LARRY GOOD

Years ago, CLC historian Matt Larson started a registry of 1953 Cadillac Eldorados. Although he didn't own one, he was fascinated by this historic GM introduction. Just like the new Buick Skylark and Oldsmobile Fiesta in 1953, the Eldorado was a convertible, hand-modified by Fisher Body to be a "halo car." These vehicles themselves lost money for the company but served as public relations to boost the prestige of their marques. Matt studied the build sheets of every '53 Eldorado, corresponded with owners around the world, and identified every survivor that he could. The Cadillac & LaSalle Club published the findings, edited by Yann Saunders, in the CLC New Eldorado Database. After identifying 193 survivors out of the original 532 Eldorados, Matt took ill and stopped working on the project in about 2012.

When I bought my own 1953 Eldorado in 2018 the bug bit me. Ever since then I have been looking for more survivors. I went to the CLC Museum & Research Center Archives, studied the 532 build sheets, corresponded with owners around the world, scoured the internet every day, took tips from many friends, and came up with 33 more, a 17% increase. These findings to date are summarized in the table on the next page. There will be more. An annual update in the Caddie Chronicle would keep those interested informed. I may do that.

This registry is not black & white, meaning the entries are not totally certain beyond doubt. We report the best information we can get. For example, a comment years ago in the CLC database about Eldorado #3 reads, "May have survived (info from grandson of Cadillac dealer who first sold the car); Matt Larson who has researched the 1953 Eldorado in great depth, has not seen this car and, therefore, is unable to confirm its existence." The grandson wrote, "I think my father has car #3... I am doing this from memory, but I think I am correct." When Matt pressed him for more details there was no further response. A picture of the FW 3 body tag exists, and Eldorado #3 is still in the registry, but we have no pictures of the car. "This is the sort of uncertainty up with which historians must put." (paraphrasing the famous Winston Churchill quote).

Eldorado #533, last 1953 Eldorado issued by the Fleetwood Fisher Plant, undergoing restoration at Cole's Classics in Ohio; See "Eldorado of the Month," Caddie Chronicle, Dec 2023

Some owners do not want their cars to be known. CLC totally respects their privacy. In that case I report that an Eldorado of a certain body number exists but with no mention of the owner, history or location, not even the continent... just the body number for survivor accounting.

In summary, most of the Eldorados in the registry absolutely exist. We can reach out and touch them. Some probably exist, and others possibly exist. From there it descends into wishful thinking. Known probable survival stands at 42% right now. Evidence suggests that another 10% to 20% may still exist somewhere. All we have to do is find them.

OUR "CARAVAN" EXPERIENCE STORY BY CHUCK PIEL PHOTOS BY CHUCK PIEL AND DON WOOD

We've often said our most fun and fulfilling experiences in our hobby are the various driving tours in which we have participated. Four CLC National Driving Tours, as well as an Eastern Shore AACA tour were very gratifying, and great opportunities to meet a lot of new friends. As such, I was eager to participate in a Classic Car Club of America (CCCA) CARAvan.

The CARAvans, offered two-three times a year at various locations around the US, are top-shelf in terms of the places they visit and host accommodations as well as the vehicles allowed to participate. As its name implies, the CCCA limits its automotive participation to high-end vehicles of the (approximately) 1920-48 era. Cadillac and LaSalle are well represented as CCCA-eligible vehicles during this period. CCCA-eligibility is one of the reasons we acquired our 1941 Cadillac Series 62 Convertible Coupe back in early 2020.

COVID, schedules, and life in general did not enable us to participate in a CARAvan until this September, when the CCCA's Colonial Region hosted the "Virginia Hospitality Tour – 2024," based in Orange, VA. Starting on September 15, we had five full days of touring local historical and general interest sites in the horse country of Central Virginia.

Debbie and I were among 52 participants from 11 states as far west as Colorado, as far north as upper New York State, and as far south as Florida. Our group drove 28 classic vehicles, ranging from two 1925 Rolls-Royces (a Silver Ghost Piccadilly roadster with Brewster coachwork and a Springfield built roadster) to a 1946 Delahaye with Pennock coachwork. Meanwhile, our 1941 Cadillac convertible was in good company, being one of four 1941 Cadillacs on the tour. They included a 60S sedan, two Series 62 sedans, and our convertible coupe. Like the CLC itself, the 1941 Cadillac is the most registered year and make with the CCCA! Many members who are endowed with revered classics will often own a 1941 Cadillac to drive on tours – the '41 Caddy is renowned for its power and easy drivability among the Classic constituency.

Cadillac & LaSalle Club Potomac Region Caddie Chronicle November 2024

Other notable Cadillacs on the tour were a 1929 341B Phaeton and a 1940 Series 75 Coupe with Fleetwood coachwork. The touring roster included a "Who's Who" of real classics:

1930 Duesenberg J Murphy-bodied Convertible Sedan (pictured on previous page)
1931 Lincoln K Dual-cowl Phaeton with Murphy coachwork
1933 Auburn 8-100A Cabriolet
1931 Bentley 8 Litre Saloon with Van Den Plas coachwork
1933 Chrysler CL Imperial Convertible Roadster bodied by LeBaron

Of course, Packard also had a commanding presence among the registered cars:

1929 Packard 626 Sedan
1933 Packard 8 1002 Phaeton
1934 Packard Super 8 1104 5 Passenger Formal Sedan
1935 Packard 12 Dual Cowl Phaeton built by Dietrich
(2) 1937 Packard 12 Convertible Victorias
1937 Packard 12 1507 Convertible Coupe
1937 Packard Super 8 1501 Convertible Victoria
1937 Packard Super 8 1501 5 Passenger Coupe
1938 Packard 1605 Convertible Sedan
1940 Packard 8 1803 160 Convertible Coupe
1941 Packard 8 1903 Convertible Coupe
1941 Packard 8 1906 Convertible Coupe – body by Darrin

While every one of these cars was spectacular, this last 1941 Packard Darrin really blew me away. It was an all-original car (paint, interior, chrome, etc.) that was originally owned by famed New York socialite and heiress Brenda Frazier. It even had a Stork Club license topper to signify a place where Ms. Frazier was seen almost all the time in NYC during the late '30s and early '40s.

Suffice it to say any lover of classic era cars would have been in awe of this assembly of automotive art.

Our five touring days included many interesting stops and some gourmet food and wine. Historically, I was most intrigued by President James & Dolley Madison's Montpelier estate in Orange, VA. It was emotional to stand in the very room where Madison wrote the first drafts of the US Constitution and the Bill of Rights! We also enjoyed a very exclusive wine tasting and gourmet lunch at the Barboursville Vineyards.

Being in the Virginia horse country, we visited some especially impressive horse farms, including Bolling Brook Peace and Plenty Farm and St. Bride's Farm, home of the 2024 Olympic Silver Medal winning Grand Prix horse jumpers. St. Bride's is also the site of 19 landscape sculptures interspersed over hundreds of acres.

Cadillac & LaSalle Club Potomac Region Caddie Chronicle November 2024

For me, the most outstanding estate we visited was Ayrshire Farm in Upperville, VA, which included a completely restored mansion that dates to 1820. This is also a working cattle farm that was purchased and restored by Sandy Lerner, co-founder of CISCO Corp.

Our '41 leads the procession as the cars approach Ayrshire Farm in Upperville

Tour cars lined up in front of the Ayrshire Farm Mansion, circa 1820

All told, our tour covered 556 miles, and with our travel to and from the tour HQ, our total mileage was just over 800 miles. The entire tour was on mostly two-lane roads with breathtaking scenery of all the farms and the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Our last stop – Woodberry Forest School

Cadillac & LaSalle Club Potomac Region Caddie Chronicle November 2024

Despite three days of rain, some very heavy, our '41 behaved beautifully, and we found out our wipers and defroster worked just fine. When it was raining hard during our take-off on Day 2, I admit I thought about "wimping out" and getting a ride with another couple. However, when I saw Skip Tetz fire up his immaculately restored 1930 Murphy-bodied Duesenberg, I was shamed into going ahead and driving our comparatively pedestrian Cadillac. While cleaning the car up after the nasty weather was a pain, it was kind of neat to navigate all kinds of weather in an 83-year-old car.

Probably the most memorable moment for me behind the wheel was when I was driving up the Blue Ridge Mountains on Interstate 64 (doing 65 mph) when I realized I was sandwiched between the 1930 Duesenberg in front and Dave Kane's 1935 Packard 12 Dietrich-bodied Dual Cowl Phaeton behind me – a moment every classic car fan should experience!

Special thanks go to the CCA's Colonial Region team that planned this wonderful trip, especially Director Lynn Shirey, owner of a beautiful 1934 Packard Formal Sedan, and Gunther Hoyt, who piloted his 1937 Packard 8 Coupe. We are already looking forward to a CARAvan planned for New England next September and reacquainting ourselves with the many new friends we made on this trip!

As they say, "Drive 'em if you got 'em!"

[Editor's Note: At the conclusion on the CARAvan, Chuck drove to the AACA Bull Run Region's Edgar Rohr Memorial Car Show in Manassas, VA, where his 1941 Series 62 Convertible Coupe received the prestigious Edgar and Walser Rohr Memorial Award generally reserved for older tour-driven cars. On Sunday, October 27, several Potomac Region members attended a Trunk or Treat event at Congressional Country Club in Bethesda, MD. In attendance were five Cadillacs and one LaSalle, including Jack & Cher Gallagher's 1939 LaSalle Series 50 Sedan, Constantin Jiga's 1959 Series 62 Coupe, Bob Norrid's 1962 Series 62 Convertible and Mike Kerwin's 1976 Sedan Deville. Members Bill Harrison, Daniel Jobe and Jack McCLOW were also at the event. In addition to the cars, which included many foreign and exotic models, there was a moon bounce for the kids plus pony rides and a petting zoo area. Many cars were decorated for the festivities, as seen in the photos. Everyone had a great time. Special thanks to Daniel Jobe for inviting Region members to participate.
